RegisterTrunk=0          ← Since we are not using trunk in this example
RegisterPairPhones=1
NumPhonesToAllocate=6   ← To support the following three phones/lines.
PairPhonesName=201;202;202; ← Note that 202 appears twice as it has two lines
PairPhonesSecret=w201;w202;w202;
OrigPhonesName=201;202;202; ← The same as PairPhonesName
OrigPhonesSecret=w201;w202;w202; ← The same as PairPhonesSecret
PairPhoneShouldImpersonateTheOriginator=1
InviteShouldMatchPairPhoneName=1
SipProxyArchitecture=0

In addition, you need to change in IP Phone 201 & 202 the address of their SIP Proxy to be the address of the PBXMate (instead of the address of the PBX). You can verify that the IP Phones have registered successfully by typing the command "show_bindings" in the CLI of the PBXMate.

In order to verify that the PBXMate has successfully registered to the PBX on behalf of the phones, in the application log you should see a line like:

```
10/15/09 19:36:44 INFO in MySip::mainLoop, All phones are active
```
